CLOSING SUMMARY

53.7%

compliance with WCAG 2.2 Level AA

Key Findings:

The majority of requirements related to content perception were successfully met, including appropriate alt text for images and well-structured headings. Identified operability features require enhancements to ensure full keyboard accessibility. Understandability aspects were generally upheld, but there is potential for improvement in content clarity and guidance. Robustness was adequately addressed, confirming compatibility with assistive technologies.

Next Steps:

As the deadline for compliance approaches, we encourage you to take action on the identified areas needing improvement. Our team is here to assist you in adjusting your content to meet the WCAG 2.2 Level AA requirements effectively. We are committed to supporting you in creating an inclusive digital environment for all users.
